Dear Colleague,

I wanted to take this opportunity to personally invite you to become a member of the American Professional Society for ADHD and Related Disorders (APSARD). If you have not heard of APSARD, we are an organization consisting of a broad spectrum of allied mental health experts working to improve the quality of care for patients with ADHD through the advancement and dissemination of research, and evidence-based practices. APSARD is a multidisciplinary organization that includes psychiatrists, pediatricians, family practitioner, advanced practice nurses, psychologists, social workers, and a variety of other professionals.

Our Annual Meeting consists of a two-day program and provides CME/CE credit. Some of the topics discussed at the 2017 Annual Meeting include, new epidemiological findings on age of onset; relationship between ADHD and Autism Spectrum Disorders; ADHD in college students and preschoolers, the latest neurobiological and genetic findings, and much more. The structure of the meeting facilitates interactions with colleagues and networking among the many disciplines who work with ADHD patients.

Membership Benefits include:

- Access to the members only website
- Discounted registration for the APSARD meeting
- New for 2017! Access to the Journal of Attention Disorders
- Conference material
- Participation in Blogs and Forums
- Voting in the APSARD election
